

Northern CA Junior Sports Camp

The Northern California Junior Sports Camp is designed to allow youth with physical disabilities ages 5-21 to experience personal growth, enhanced self-esteem and increased independence. Campers challenge themselves in a variety of sports gaining the same benefits from their participation as non-disabled athletes.

The camp will cover introductory and intermediate instruction in both recreational and competitive wheelchair sports. World class wheelchair athletes will serve as role models and provide instruction in archery, basketball, table tennis, track & field, tennis, swimming and other sports.

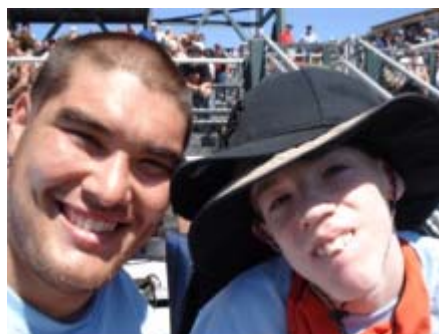

Campers can choose to attend either day camp or overnight residential camp. Each participant must be capable of independently performing all activities of daily living or independently direct counselors in their need for assistance.

Transportation & Meals

Transportation is provided for day campers only on a limited basis at an extra charge.

Lunches will be provided everyday for day campers. Overnight campers will receive all meals, beginning with lunch on July 09 through dinner on July 20, 2007.

Junior Sports Camp

The Northern California Junior Sports Camp began in 1983 as a co-sponsored program of the Far West Wheelchair Athletic Association and the City of San José Department of Parks, Recreation and Neighborhood Services.

The Northern California Junior Sports Camp was the first project of its kind in the Bay Area. The purpose of the program is to introduce sports and recreation activities to children and youth who have physical disabilities and who want to have fun and participate in the same sports as their able-bodied peers.
